WAX MANUFACTURER SINCE 1930

Like many unique products, Swissvax was originally designed around the family kitchen table. The old Anwander chemist's shop in Zurich was both the laboratory and the production site for the first tins of "Antikwachs" – a wax formulation specially developed for antique furniture and lacquers.

Since producing those first tins of precious "Antikwachs", the Anwander family has devoted itself to paints, lacquers, and waxes for over three generations. At the beginning, the natural waxes for cars were produced solely for the use of Hans Anwander, the grandfather and the founder of the company. Over the years, the original formulations have been continually adapted in response to customer needs, environmental requirements and technological changes.

In our passion to manufacture the best waxes in the world, we simply refuse to make any compromises. Top quality ingredients, complex formulas for making wax does not suitable for mass production without compromises. Our waxes are still blended and each tin filled exclusively by hand to this day.

The Swiss reputation for quality and precision is echoed in our products. For over three generations, we at Swissvax have been dedicated car enthusiasts and collectors. Our unique products do not have to meet sales targets or a production budget, which is what they are top quality care products today.

Today, the name of Swissvax is a high-performance car care system for enthusiasts and collectors. It consists the collection of top quality Integrated washing, cleaning, and nourishing products. Swissvax car care products will always care your dream. Check with your detailer or drop us a call. Also, visit our website for more details.
